A publication of the USG-UISG Commission for Justice, Peace and Integrity of Creation.

FEBRUARY 2014 Vol. 8/No. 2

Editorial: The month of February begins with the celebration of a day of prayer for women and men in consecrated life: This day, instituted by Blessed John Paul II in 1997, is attached to the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord on February 2nd. This “Candlemas Day,” the day in which candles are blessed, symbolizing Christ who is the light of the world, should remind us our mission of justice, peace and integrity of creation. This social mission helps men and women religious to be credible as we accomplish our evangelizing vocation, to share with our contemporary world: “The joys and the hopes, the griefs and the anxieties of the people of this age, especially those who are poor or in any way afflicted, these are the joys and hopes, the griefs and anxieties of the followers of Christ”.—GS # 1

1.2. “Wake up the World” Conversation with Pope Francis about Religious life. On November 29 Pope Francis met with the Union of Superior Generals and shared his reflections on the mission and value of Consecrated Life in the Church today. From the JPIC perspective, the following points can be highlighted: “... be a real witness of a way of doing and acting differently. The witness that can really attract is that associated with attitudes which are uncommon: generosity, detachment, sacrifice self-forgetfulness in order to care for others.” He encouraged men and women religious to go to the peripheries of the world, citing a letter by Superior General Fr. Pedro `Arrupe, SJ to the Jesuit social centers in which he stated that in order to make a preferential option for the poor it is necessary to live with the poor. To read more of the Pope’s message, please see attachment.

1.3. JPIC Promoters meet with Walk Free founder. A group of JPIC Promoters attended a meeting hosted by the Pontifical Council of Justice and Peace on January 27, to introduce a team from [Walk Free Foundation](http://Walk Free Foundation), led by its founder, Andrew Forrest. Mr. Forrest gave an overview of Walk Free and its campaign to end modern slavery in this generation. He presented a copy of the Global Slavery Index that ranks the prevalence and indicates the size of slavery in 162 countries. He expressed a desire to bring the stories of religious groups serving victims of human trafficking to the next World Economic Forum in Davos, Switzerland in order to encourage business leaders around the world to contribute to [The Freedom Fund](http://The Freedom Fund) and raise $100 million to end slavery throughout the world. The Fund provides grants for anti-slavery/trafficking projects. For more information about Walk Free, visit www.walkfree.org.

1.4. International Women's Day at the Vatican. Pope Francis' call "... to broaden the space within the Church for women for more incisive feminine presence" is having its echo [is this echo?] with people beginning to take initiatives. To celebrate International Women's Day on March 8th Voices of Faith will feature a live streaming storytelling event on Cinema Vaticano at 2-4 pm and 5-7 pm. Eleven remarkable women will share their personal stories, demonstrating how their unwavering faith has positively impacted their life, greater society and the world. ## OUTSIDE OF ROME

2.1. South Sudan Bishops Appeal for Missionaries. The bishops of South Sudan are appealing for missionaries, particularly for the Diocese of Malakal, which has borne the brunt of the fighting, killing and destruction in the current conflict. The bishops believe firmly that the presence of the Catholic Church in the rural parts of this huge diocese (covering three states) will help to bring development and stability. Much of the population is unevangelized and there is virtually no Catholic presence, so primary evangelization is part of the task. The bishops note that it is a very challenging and difficult environment. (<http://jpicformation.wikispaces.com/file/view/appeal%20for%20missionaries%20feb2014.pdf>)

2.2. Day of Prayer for Trafficked Persons: The USCCB Committee on Migration has designated February 8 as an annual day of prayer for survivors and victims of human trafficking. More information and resources are available from the following websites: Bakhita Initiative (U.S. Catholic Sisters Against Human Trafficking), UNANIMA International and the USCCB—"Become a Shepherd" and Stop Human Trafficking and Exploitation, Protect, Help, Empower and Restore Human Dignity. Click here to access Become a Shepherd Toolkit.

2.3. Globalization of Indifference. Jose' Antonio Josaba shares with us a link to an interesting article by Timothy A. Wise with the title: "Why it's dangerous to trust corporations to lead the fight against World hunger." This resonates well with what Pope Francis says regarding our economic systems: "In this context, some people continue to defend trickle-down theories which assume that economic growth, encouraged by a free market, will inevitably succeed in bringing about greater justice and inclusiveness in the world. This opinion, which has never been confirmed by the facts, expresses a crude and naïve trust in the goodness of those wielding economic power and in the sacralized workings of the prevailing economic system. Meanwhile, the excluded are still waiting. To sustain a lifestyle which excludes others, or to sustain enthusiasm for that selfish ideal, a globalization of indifference has developed." (Evangelii Gaudium, # 54)

2.4. Report on the Survey of mineral exploitation in Walikale North Kivu Congo DRC.

You might already have seen the results of this survey which was conducted by the CERN (Episcopal Conference for Natural Resources), RDC in December 2013, titled "The Impact of Mining on the Economy and Society of Walikale." It is striking to see in the summary of the report that despite a glut of precious minerals of all kinds, 900,000 people languish in absolute misery. And all this, it seems, in the absence of a state that has the mandate to manage the resources of its country to ensure a dignified life for its citizens! Visit www.cern-cenco.cd to read the report. (Shared by Camille Piche, OMI)

2.5. MEPs oppose authorizing new genetically modified maize. The World Rural Forum secretary shares the interesting news about a resolution of the European Parliament on a new genetically modified maize variety. Find more detailed information on <http://www.europarl.europa.eu/news/en/news-room/content/20140110IPR32334/html/Food-safety-MEPs-oppose-authorising-new-genetically-modified-maize>.

In this year 2014, the UN brings to the attention of its members of the connection between water and energy.
